Main Sessions & Workshop

ERIN DAVIS – Among the Sequoias

The Psalmist declares, “The righteous flourish like the palm tree and grow like a cedar in Lebanon” (Ps. 92:12). Erin will guide us through Psalm 92 as a roadmap to thriving through deeper intimacy with Jesus. We will accept Scripture’s call to stop living in survival mode and flourish for the sake of the gospel.

Session 1: Where Are the Flourishers?

God’s Word makes a bold statement: “The righteous flourish” (Psalm 92:12). This is not a pie-in-the-sky, someday hope, but a possible reality right now. We don’t have to strive our way to glory or white-knuckle our way into God’s presence.

Session 2: Bring Back the Gladness

The Bible contrasts two kinds of flourishing: one offered by the perishing world, the other offered by our eternal God. Discover how to thrive even in the midst of suffering and let the Bible reorient your heart toward life-giving gratitude.

Session 3: What Flourishing Means to a Flailing World

Learn why a commitment to flourishing goes beyond our personal well-being and works as an effective strategy to win the lost and impact the next generation.

MERIBETH SCHIERBEEK, Workshop Leader – Women Who Labor Side by Side

What does laboring side by side look like for women whose hope is in Christ? We will explore the lives of two women in the Bible and consider what it means to labor faithfully with our gaze set firmly on Christ.
